ENRICHMENT Chapter 3

PROFILE OF A MULTINATIONAL CORPORATION

A multinational is a corporation that has manufacturing or service operations in a number of different countries. Some multinationals are also conglomerates—companies that have at least four businesses making unrelated products, none of which is responsible for a majority of its sales.

The chart below provides a profile of PepsiCo, Inc., a multinational corporation and former conglomerate. The PepsiCo conglomerate owned Pepsi-Cola, Frito-Lay, and fast-food restaurants including Taco Bell and Pizza Hut.

Directions: Study the profile and then answer the questions that follow on a separate piece of paper.

PepsiCo, Inc.

1. a. In which three areas does PepsiCo have a market share?
b. Which market share provides most of the company's profits?
2. How many people does PepsiCo employ as a multinational corporation?
3. Explain why PepsiCo is no longer considered a conglomerate.
4. Circle the brand names in the profile that you recognize.
5. Critical Thinking Many of PepsiCo's products seem to compete with each other. For example, Slice might compete with Mountain Dew. Explain why a multinational would find this situation advantageous.
